

Lift Engineers How HSS Can Help

Reliability is a critical factor for Lift Engineers. Your customers demand quality, rapid response and total commitment to safety.

Our customers expect the same of us – which makes HSS the right choice as your business partner. We have a long track record of delivering effective specialist services for Lift Engineers, meeting all their requirements for the hire of tools, plant and equipment.

We take full responsibility for all maintenance, quality checking, certification and storage. We can even provide all transportation to and from sites. Supporting your core business is our core business.

What you need, when you need it

We understand that your requirements can be unpredictable, and that the duration of hire can be equally uncertain. That is why our systems have been designed to be flexible and responsive. We hold a massive stock, everything from the most basic items to many highly specialised products – all available at short notice through our national network of service centres. And our computer-based asset management system means we can locate anything and deliver it to you at agreed times.

Lift Engineers often have to work fast, fitting an installation into a tight construction programme or responding to a need for emergency repairs. You are the experts and will get the job done. But for those vital back-up services – equipment sourcing, servicing, maintenance and logistics – we are the experts and we're ready to help.

We can also support you with equipment traditionally owned and managed by Lift Engineers, such as installation tooling kits. We have proven experience of improving the availability of this equipment and increasing the number of projects that can be completed with the same amount of kit – by better managing your inventory and allowing you to focus on the business at hand.

Partnering with HSS assures you of:

- Productivity improvements
- Enhanced health & safety standards
- Legislative compliance
- More time to focus on core business.
